ALL TOGETHER NOW

a children's collection

Campbell

For those who know Chris, the release of a children's project is no surprise. As a young father, he is known to have his children participate on stage.

Originally intended as a gift to his children, the project is comprised of songs designed to sing along with, to move to, to educate, to express feelings, and to teach life lessons. Further, while the collection includes some of Chris' all-time favorite children songs, it also includes originals stemming from his day-to-day experiences. Songs about getting kids to clean up their messes, searching the house for his son's seahorse "Lovee", and teaching the ABC's by making soup are just a few of the experiences Chris shares from his family life. This is a collection that kids of all ages will be growing on for years to come!
